

How individual feature rows move from top PCs into the spectral tail

Each curve is normalized to expose its spectral location; the pixel-space norm growth is quantified by $\text{tr}(FF^\top)$ in the metric figures.